SUBSCRIPTION—2.00 PER YEAR

BAY ST. LOUIS, MISS., FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 15, 1952

VOL. 61 - NO. 7

Observations... By UDELL

Bay St. Louis did it again... For the third consecutive month, this city has led cities in the Biloxi-Gulfport district in general business activity increases. According to the Mississippi Business Review, Bay St. Louis showed a 30.4 per cent gain for December 1951 over that of December 1950. Pass Christian, with 24.1 per cent; Gulfport, 12.8 per cent; and Piquemine, 11.4 per cent. As a matter of fact Bay St. Louis led the report all around. Bank deposits showed an increase of 41.2 per cent over Pass Christian's 32.3 per cent; Biloxi's 20.3 per cent; Piquemine's 19.1 per cent; and Gulfport's 10.7 per cent. But, the one that should have shown a decrease was also on the increase—the percentage of postal notes. Bay St. Louis showed a 22.4 per cent increase. Piquemine was the only city in this area showing a decrease of 0.5. This means that the people of Piquemine are shopping at home instead of buying everything away. Don't you know that you can find the same article in Bay St. Louis as you can get from one of the business houses away from town. You would probably come out at a lot cheaper buying it at home. If you can't find something at your local stores, then get it somewhere else, but try to keep your money where it will do the most good. Business activity in Bay St. Louis showed a 12.6 per cent gain in December over November.

Now that Bay St. Louis is showing a steady increase in business, isn't it about time that it showed a steady increase in cleaning up? If our local organizations, such as the Garden Club, Rotary, Chamber of Commerce, and other civic groups, would work with our City and County officials on a clean-up program, Bay St. Louis might become a little more attractive to visitors. Lack of pride is the root of this evil that makes us live in a town with so many weeds and unsightly spots. That little word, "Cooperation," can be applied here once again. Let's get the ball rolling and get our civic organizations interested in beautifying their City, particularly at this time when plans are being made for the annual Spring Pilgrimage of Garden Clubs to include Bay St. Louis on the program. Maybe, when this start is made, and our citizens without pride see what the other fellow is doing, they will follow suit.

Ruella avenue has been under water now for almost three months—even the bridge is covered with water and passage on this street is almost impossible without getting bogged down. All drainage in this area is blocked. Part of St. Augustine's Seminary is under water too, and could prove to be a hazard to health. Can't something be done about this?

A local boy, Truman Schultz, has fought his way through Golden Gloves tournaments in three cities within the past month. In the novice class, Truman won the championship in his division in Memphis last week, but was unable to go to Chicago for the tournament which is for boys in the open class only. Truman was also awarded trophies for outstanding sportsmanship in Hattiesburg and Jackson.

Are you ready to donate another pint of blood to the American Red Cross Blood Bank? The next Blood Bank will be held at the Youth Center Monday, March 17, according to Mrs. Lucien M. Gex, chairman. All Citizens of Hancock County are urged to sign now and be on hand to donate blood March 17.

Catholic men in Bay St. Louis and vicinity are invited to attend Mass in a body Sunday, February 17, with a group trying to organize a Holy Name Society in Bay St. Louis. If enough interest is shown, the Society will be organized at a meeting next month.

In an accident on Highway 90 bridge, Henderson Point side, Sunday morning around 5:30, a car was thrown against the railing, breaking a number of the boards. Bill Garcia Given U. S. Navy Award

Milton J. Garcia, radarman, second class, USN, has been awarded the Commendation Ribbon with metal pendant and commensurate services performed while in the Korean war zone.

Garcia was one of the six men from the crew of the destroyer USS Hank, to be similarly decorated at the Naval Operating Base, Norfolk, Va.

The Hank, one of the ships of Destroyer Squadron 16, served in Korean coastal waters from October, 1950, until April, 1951. Many times the ships of the fasted "Seashore Squadron" were under fire from Communist shore batteries.

In early December, 1950, the Hank supported the evacuation of Wonsan, and then moved to Hungnam, where she fired many support missions and helped create the "curtain of fire" around the epic "amphibious operation in reverse" which culminated in the safe withdrawal of United Nations forces on Christmas Eve.

The Hank was one of the last of the UN ships to leave the harbor of Hungnam.

Garcia was cited for his "initiative, and unflinching devotion to duty which contributed materially to the successful operation of all assigned missions and which at all times were in keeping with the highest traditions of the United States Naval service."

The citation was signed by Vice Admiral C. Turner Joy, USN, Commander Naval Forces, Far East.

Garcia is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph K. Garcia of Cleveland Harbor, Miss. He is married to the former Miss Eleanor Simonson, daughter of Mrs. Carolyn Simonson of 5940 Watt Avenue, North Highlands, Calif.

Garcia was graduated from Saint Stanislaus High School, and enlisted in the Navy at New Orleans in June, 1943.

Five County Boys To Receive Quail

Boys of Hancock County will receive five pairs of quail at the Courthouse in Bay St. Louis on Wednesday February 27 at 10:00 a. m. according to an announcement from the State Game and Fish Commission. The quail will be furnished by the Commission under a cooperative agreement between the 4-H Club Extension Service program and the Commission. Boys who receive quail have been selected for their ability and desire to participate in wildlife management projects.

Quail breeding, rearing and management is a part of the Youth Activity program instituted by the state's wildlife agency and is now in its fourth year. Thousands of birds have been delivered free of cost to 4-H and FFA boys for use in their wildlife management projects.

Another project is that of growing lespedeza bicolor which provides an abundant harvest of seeds highly preferred by quail. Seed and plants have been furnished to boys who have signed up for the projects.

Theable cooperation of the state extension service personnel in the 4-H Club wildlife management projects has resulted in more and more quail each year. The wildlife projects undertaken by members of the 4-H group has shown the greatest increase in the number of participants of any 4-H project.

Both the extension service leaders and quail experts of the Game and Fish Commission are quick to point out that raising of quail in pens and their subsequent release is an educational venture and is not intended and not capable of being used as an extensive restocking program.

Robert A. Pierce, leader of the quail research project, for the Commission points out that "release of pen-raised quail except in areas where the native population has not been completely shot-out is not regarded as a sound method for restoring the quail population."

Quail management as carried out in the wildlife management projects teaches the development of food supply adjacent to cover which the birds can use as an escape route from their natural enemies.

M. M. Benbenbaugh, in charge of the Youth Activities program of the Game and Fish Commission, will deliver the quail personally in Bay St. Louis.

L W V Announces Purposes, Aims

In order to clarify its aims and purposes, the Bay St. Louis League of Women Voters, through its president, Mrs. Paul M. Miller, has defined its objectives.

The League of Women Voters is a national organization whose chief objective is to interest and intelligent participation in government. It is built on a foundation of non-partisanship; the League will never come out for or against a party or candidate, but it will strive at all times to discover and make clear all possible facts about all candidates and issues.

"The League stands for good government," Mrs. Miller stated. "It firmly believes that good government is the outgrowth of informed opinion. That is why the League has asked that its members and other interested citizens, attend the meeting of County and City governing boards, a schedule of which will be found in today's paper. If each of us, once a month, went to one meeting, we would at the end of the year, have a much clearer idea of how our affairs are being handled."

Members of the League are also trying to increase their understanding of local problems through study groups. On Wednesday, February 20, at 8:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. E. P. Kirkpatrick, the League will be addressed by a prominent Bay St. Louis attorney who will explain the procedure of the County and State judiciary system. The public is cordially invited to attend.

A general meeting of the League of Women Voters of Bay St. Louis was held on the evening of February 9 at the Youth Center. The newly-organized Gulfport League was represented by Mrs. R. Rieman and Miss Annie Crigton. After the business of the meeting was disposed of, a documentary film was shown.

port was introduced. Mrs. Mahen, who has recently returned from Europe, gave an interesting discussion of the problems of Europe, displaced persons, many Catholics, and the work the National Council of Welfare Conference is doing over there.

Father Desmond gave an instructive talk on the Bible and the definition of the Bible. Father stated that this is Bible Week. It was announced that the next meeting will be held in Pass Christian.

County Agent's Notes

By HOWARD SIMMONS

TREAT COTTONSEED

Why Treat? Good planting seed of 80 percent or better germination is short this year. In view of the low vitality of the planting seed this year. Chemical treatment of seed is doubly important.

With cotton scarce for the first time since the civil war, a high yield of lint to the acre is necessary. Good stands, to a great extent, depend on the quality of the planting seed. Have your planting seed treated.

Seed treating helps to prevent seed decay or rot, gives better stands; permits earlier planting; saves scarce, expensive seed; helps to control damping-off; saves labor and expense of replanting; and increases yield and makes for healthy fast growing young plants.

Cost of Treating. Chemical dusts for treating seed cost from 3 to 4 cents a bushel. Delinting mechanically, and treating costs from 50 to 75 cents a ton or about 10 cents a bushel.

Profits from Treated Seeds. In a four year test seed cotton production was increased 240 pounds to the acre through the use of proper seed treatment.

What to Use. A good chemical dust as two percent Ceresan, five percent Ceresan or Dow 9-B on fuzzy or mechanically dented seed will give good results.

Caution. Poor seed treatment is no better than no treatment. Follow directions of manufacturer. For details on treating seed see your county agent.

PASTURES

While February is not the best month for growing grasses and clovers or feed, it is a good month

To the members of the committees, Mrs. Reginald Moran, Mrs. Mabel Green, Mrs. Milton Stout, and Ed Green, to the orchestra under the direction of Gerald Luther, to George Luxich, peace officer, and to all the members and their friends, sincere thanks. Because of your help, we were able to contribute $76.45 to help swell the fund to fight polio in Hancock County.

to plan for pastures and feed for the rest of the year and next winter.

Feed Necessary. No pasture program will be complete without a good feed program. Pastures furnish plenty of grazing for nine to ten months. Harvested feed will be necessary for the remaining two or three months.

Plan now to Hay so that there will be enough land in the right kinds of hay crops for the livestock to have all they need next winter. Lespedeza makes one of the best hays. You can figure on harvesting from one and a half to two tons of good quality Lespedeza hay to the acre from land properly mineralized.

Silage is coming back strong because it can be handled entirely by machinery. Dixie 18 corn or any big growing variety of corn or Sart or Hado sorghum produce high yield for silage. Grass silage can be cut from any areas not needed for grazing this spring. Where corn will make 60 to 70 bushels to the acre as ear corn, 100 bushels in fed value can be put up as silage.

CORN

Land planted to corn should produce 60 to 85 bushels to the acre if an average of 500 pounds of good mixed fertilizer is applied to each acre at planting time and is sidedressed with 60 to 90 pounds of nitrogen when it is knee high.

Use a good adapted hybrid and leave about 10,000 stalks to the acre. This can be done by leaving a stalk every 17 and a half inches on 36 inch rows; one every 16 inches on 40 inch rows; or one every 15 inches on 42 inch rows.

Labor Saver. Fertilizer is one of the best labor savers for 1952. With correct fertilization, it won't take any more labor to produce high yields than it will for poor production. In fact, it takes less labor but makes many times as high yields.

This year good seed, plenty of fertilizer and good management will make extra money.

Celebrates Birthday

O'Neill Bennett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Bennett, celebrated his tenth birthday Saturday, February 9, at the home of his parents on Hancock street.

A yellow and green birthday cake centered the table which was arranged with favors of balloons and candy.

Mrs. Bennett was assisted in serving by O'Neill's grandmother, Mrs. Anne Bennett, Mrs. Richard Burge and Mrs. Nolan Kingston.

Mogabgab Returns From "Rough" Voyage

Louis Mogabgab, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Mogabgab of Bay St. Louis, returned last month from a rather rough voyage to Japan aboard the vessel, CVE Cape Esperance.

The storm-tossed escort carrier upon its arrival at the Alameda Naval Air Station bore tell tale evidence of the furious Pacific storms which dealt a fatal blow to the freighter Pennsylvania.

The Esperance was carrying 217 Navy passengers from a 10 and one half day trip from Japan. The voyage normally takes less than 14 days.

For the ship's passengers, most of them reservists returning to the United States for discharge, the trip home was a wretched one. Many of them were seasick. Because of the howling winds and the sea lurching, all were compelled to remain below decks.

One of them, according to an article appearing in an Alameda paper sent home by Mogabgab to his parents, said "I'm not only glad to be home, I'm glad to be anywhere just so it's not on any ocean."

Captain E. R. Sanders of Alameda, said his vessel once ran through an endless series of roaring gales, against such mountainous seas that he was forced to head back toward Japan.

"It was the worst crossing I've ever made," he declared.

In fact, he asserted, it was so bad his 10,000-ton ship escaped destruction by a scant three feet.

Angry waves lashed close to the carrier's small smokestacks along the port side of the flight deck.

Despite all that, Captain Sanders said the Esperance bore no signs of "dramatic damage." There were ominous cracks in heavy structural beams under the flight deck, and a whaleboat had been "banged about." The 400-man crew and passengers also suffered.

One sailor broke an arm when he was slammed against a bulkhead in the messhall. "All hands" lived on canned meat and crackers during the worst days.

A number of "gun tubs" which perch like balconies over the carrier's were buckled when they dipped water during CVE-88's lurching rolls of as much as 45 degrees.

Green water came over the empty flight deck and turned the 400-foot hanger deck below into "a swimming pool" after smashing in two big steel doors.

If the "Double Eightball," as the ship is called by her crew, had been carrying planes on the flight deck, all of them would have been lost the skipper said.

In 1944 during a typhoon off Leyte while attached to the First Fleet, the Esperance lost all 27 of its planes. Its hull frames were believed to be severely strained in the how.

Captain Sanders, in his interview with the Alameda correspondent, said the 1952 storms were nearly of typhoon force and, like typhoons, unpredictable in nature with winds veering in all directions.

Sunday Special Turkey DINNER, $1.50

A reminder that heart diseases are the leading cause of death in our state and our nation - should lead us to think of steps we might take to avoid such diseases. During February, which is observed as heart month, we would do well to increase our knowledge of living wisely with respect to our heart.

People often ask if smoking causes heart disease. The best answer is from obtainable information is that smoking aggravates some types of heart disease. Some doctors permit the heart patient to smoke; some forbid smoking; others tell him to go lightly on tobacco.

"Does alcohol cause heart disease?" is another question physicians are asked. The best answer to this inquiry is "No, alcohol does not cause heart disease." Alcohol is bad, however, for some heart conditions that have already developed. On the other hand, physicians allow it in moderation for other forms of heart disease.

The question of how worry affects the heart frequently arises. Again, the negative answer is probably the best: worry does not weaken a sound heart. Worry will, however, aggravate diseased hearts.

Overweight and too fast a pace of living could more nearly be called possible causes of heart diseases. Overweight is an extra load that helps a heart to crack when other strains become high. Too much strain from the hectic pace of modern living is thought to strengthen tendencies toward heart disease in some people or to bring it on earlier and make it

BROWNIES DEN

Brownie Troop 1 met Wednesday afternoon, February 13 with Mrs. John Morrill, Brownie leader, and Mrs. Ezzela Ling and Mrs. K. Kramer, assistants.

Because of the many children on the waiting list, the leaders find it difficult to handle 45 children at each meeting; therefore, plans are being made for expansion. Leaders are needed to help care for two new troops. Anyone interested in this work is kindly asked to contact one of the leaders.

We will live better and longer if we avoid excess fat and if we insist on not being rushed to death in this modern way of life. Too much stress cannot be placed on moderation in all things. Abuses of the body in food and hurry in everything ultimately take their toll in health and life itself.

Camellia Show Winners Announced

The Parish House of Trinity Episcopal Church was a busy place last Saturday morning as members of the Pass Christian Garden Club went through the formalities of entering camellia arrangements and camellia bloom specimens for competitive judging. Entries were received from 8:00 a. m. until 11:00 a. m. Judging was completed, and ribbons awarded before 2:00 p. m. when the show was opened to the public.

Mrs. John Bell, chairman of decorations, with the assistance of Miss Margaret Gack, Miss Ann Livingside, Miss Donna Beard and others, dreamed up and produced a miniature stage garden, charming in every detail from the large and luxurious camellia shrubs towering over an artistic garden wall with its white picketed gate, down to the grouping of many dwarf pink azaleas at the foot of the platform. There was a brick-lined border for an old-fashioned flower bed and carpet of grass lawn with a white garlanded wheelbarrow in the foreground. In the garden grew flowers and shrubs familiar to all Southern gardens, including boxwood hedge, Southern smilax, camellia, pear blooms, and azaleas.

The tea table was decorated in Valentine motif with an outline of a large paper-lace heart filled in completely with red camellias. White-iced cake with tiny red camellia color iced centers and other assorted cookies were served along with Russian tea.

Among those assisting with the tea service were Mesdames M. M. Cummins, Stamford Morse, William Lighter and Harrington Hillman.

Competition for ribbon awards were exhibited under three sections with a total of 18 classes. Mrs. George Smith was winner in Class 1 with a perfect Ville de Mantel.

In class 2 the winners were Miss Lucy Garrett's "Hahurakutet," Mrs. N. L. Sebastian's "Duc d'Orleans" took the blue ribbon in Class three with "Hermes" also from the Sebastian's garden in second place and Mrs. P. Ambler's "Chandeler Elegance" also a ribbon winner.

Mrs. George Smith won two ribbons in Class 4 with her "Prof. Sargeant" and "Rose Dawn". The blue ribbon in Class 4 was awarded Mrs. N. L. Sebastian for her "C. H. Hovey". The sport white Elizabeth grown by Mrs. Felix Vaccaro took the blue ribbon in Class 5 with a sport of the white perfection grown by Mrs. Jane Wheeler in second place, and Mrs. Vaccaro's "Hermes" sport in third position. (Seedlings are called "sports" in the camellia world). These five classes completed the single bloom specimens which were grown by the persons in whose names they were entered.

Section B of the show was made up of five classes with containers furnished by the persons making the entries. The blooms were not necessarily grown by the contestants and judging was based on arrangement as well as blooms.

Mrs. Jane Wheeler's arrangement won a ribbon in each class of Section B, although not a single ribbon was first prize.

Winners in the order of prize ribbons are listed:

Class 6: Mrs. George Shields with a perfect Prof. Sargeant arrangement, Mrs. Alfred Stern, and Mrs. Jane Wheeler; Class 7, Mrs. R. S. Hecht, Mrs. Jane Wheeler; Class 8, Mrs. George Smith; Mrs. Jane Wheeler and Mrs. George Moring; Class 9, Mrs. George Moring; Mrs. Alfred Stern and Mrs. Jane Wheeler; Class 10, Mrs. N. L. Sebastian, Mrs. George Smith and Mrs. Jane Wheeler.

In Section C, Class 11 showed oriental influence in arrangements in which Miss Lucy Garrett's won the blue ribbon. Mrs. Geo. Smith was also a winner in this class.

A single bloom in a container shown in a distinctive manner won Class 12 in which Mrs. Nettie Rose took first place; Katherine Robinson was second and Mrs. Jane Wheeler. Mrs. Wheeler's container was a self-improvised large gold ring in a ring-box. Setting for the ring was a "Magnolia Flora."

Arrangements suitable for hall table were displayed in Class 13. Winners included Mrs. George Moring, Mrs. W. G. Clark and Mrs. Ambler. Mrs. Ambler's arrangement was a piece of delftware, the holes of which became receptacles for her camellias.

Arrangements for the dinner table were exhibited in Class 14. Mrs. George Shields won the blue ribbon; Mrs. S. A. Schmidt was also a winner in this class and her purple daisy in the variegated arrangements was especially good. Mrs. John Parker won the red-ribbon in this class. Her arrangement was a flat glass receptacle with a grouping of pink perfection, also two delicate pink tapers with pink perfection secured near the base.

Niche arrangements in Class 15 were won by Mrs. George Smith and Mrs. George Moring. White camellias displayed in crystal in Class 16 was won by Mrs. George Smith. Arrangements of camellias with bulb flowers in Class 17 was won by Miss Adele Bielenberg, and Mrs. George Smith. Miscellaneous arrangements made up the 18th and final class. Winners were Mrs. George Smith, Mrs. Ambler and Mrs. George Moring.

Mrs. J. K. Muether, who registered visitors, said the show was attended by residents of neighboring Gulfcoast towns and also a number of New Orleans people.

S. L. Taylor, 87, Expires In Pass

Samuel Laird Taylor, 87, a resident of Pass Christian for more than half a century, passed away February 2, and funeral services were conducted Sunday, February 3, at 3:30 p. m. with the Reverend Willis Gaylord Clark, Rector of Trinity Episcopal Church officiating. Burial took place in the family plot at the Live Oak cemetery.

Mr. Taylor was born in New York City, New York, February 5, 1865. He came to Pass Christian in 1892 and opened a photographic business on Second street in about the location of the present Fire Station. In those days Mr. Taylor's work was mostly of the tin-type variety, but he progressed along with the photography industry and enjoyed the patronage of prominent gulf coast people.

In 1901 Miss Julia Bohn, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Bohn, became Mrs. Taylor's bride.

The Taylors were the owners of the first moving picture theatre in Pass Christian. The theatre was erected by a man who went by the nickname of "Stanley-the-Crank." This picture show was located on Second street and the Taylors then built the first Air Dome Theatre, located directly across the street from the Town Library. This "Air Dome" provided entertainment for the populace in 1901 and several years to follow. Following this a new motion picture house was erected and named "The Cozy Theatre." It was operated in connection with their established photographic gallery.

The Cozy Theatre and Photographic Gallery was destroyed by fire in 1938 together with the Taylor's home and many valuable records. Following the fire the Taylors built an attractive little shop called the Cozy Shop which is located on the beach side of Beach Boulevard. This little shop, well known to tourists and winter visitors, as well as to permanent residents of Pass Christian, was operated by Mr. and Mrs. Taylor "Corky," Irish Setter, always with their ever-faithful dog, near by.

Mr. Taylor is survived by his widow, Mrs. Julia Bohn Taylor, a son, Stanley Leroy Taylor of Crosby, Mississippi; and two grandsons, Stanley Leroy Taylor Jr., and Audley Taylor, who is the son of Mrs. Christine DeMetz Taylor and the late Audley Taylor of Pass Christian.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Kalit recently attended Carnival balls in the Crescent City.

Paul Torgeson Jr., until recently a student in Pass Christian, is now working with an optical firm in New Orleans.

Herbert Martin attended the Brown-Waters wedding here and remained a few days for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. John Palmer.

Mrs. John Bell will teach the Sunday School class of the Trinity Episcopal Church now conducted by Mrs. Willis Gaylord Clark, upon Mrs. Clark's retirement.

John DeMetz was at home over the weekend.

Mrs. Paul Torgeson r., and her son, Kenneth, were recent New Orleans visitors.

William Conery was a business visitor in New Orleans.

Mrs. Dorothy Dempwolf Dennis is visiting in Florida.

Mrs. Roy Cantrell with daughters were in Pass Christian over the weekend.

The Oil and Gas Industry Pays
$31,945.00 EVERY DAY
for Taxes in Mississippi

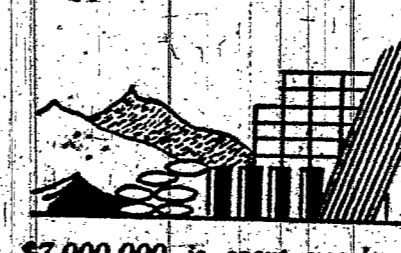

In 1951, Mississippi's growing oil and gas industry paid $31,945 in taxes for every working day of the year—a total of over $10,000,000. And $5,700,000 of this was in direct severance taxes on production. Since 1944, the industry has paid over $27 million in this form of taxation alone and such revenue for local and state governments will continue to grow just as fast as the industry grows. This is only one of the many ways Mississippi's oil and gas industry helps build the progress and prosperity of the entire state.

$15,000,000 is earned each year by 5,000 Mississippi men and women directly employed by the oil and gas industry. These are your neighbors and their dollars add to the prosperity of your community.

$18,000,000 is paid annually by the oil and gas industry to over 25,000 Mississippi royalty and land owners—people who live in all parts of the state. This substantial income is important to the expanding economy of Mississippi.

$7,000,000 is spent yearly for Mississippi materials and supplies needed by the oil and gas industry in the continuing work of exploration and development—another boost for Mississippi prosperity.

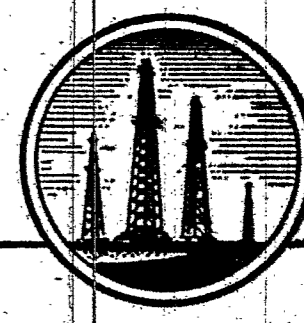

In payrolls, purchases, taxes, royalties and rentals, oil and gas now add up to more than a $50 million-a-year industry for Mississippi. Starting with a handful of wells only 13 years ago, the industry has 1754 producing wells today and is playing an increasingly important part in Mississippi's expanding economy.

This notable progress has been largely due to the constructive attitude of Mississippians toward industrial development. An attitude that calls for cooperation between local and state governments and business, fair and reasonable taxes, and helpful cooperation by all citizens.

With the continued cooperation of Mississippians, the oil and gas industry can proceed with the sound development of Mississippi's oil and gas resources. All Mississippians will benefit. There will be more jobs, more payrolls and more new dollars in circulation to help increase the income of every Mississippian.

is a job for the forests

... but it's only one of thousands of jobs for which we need wood. Our country uses many times as much wood as any other nation. We are constantly finding new ways to use this vital material. As a result, many Americans make a business of GROWING trees for our use. They are called "tree farmers".

The forest industries of America endorse and support the TREE FARM movement, which is teaching owners of our woodlands modern management methods for the production of new and profitable forests. They are planning today for tomorrow's wood requirements. This means permanent forest industries assuring profits and benefits for our community.

Congressional Sidelights

by Congressman Wm. M. Colmer

REORGANIZATION BUREAU OF INTERNAL REVENUE

The House approved the Hoover Commission plan to reorganize the Bureau of Internal Revenue last week. Under this new set-up, 64 tax collectors would be abolished and replaced by not more than 25 District Commissioners. In addition, all officials of the Bureau except the top Commissioner would be under Civil Service. It's now up to the Senate which must act before March 14th to prevent the plan from going into effect.

THE U. M. T.
Pushing toward a show-down on UMT, the House Armed Services Committee last week concluded nearly a month of hearings, with nearly a hundred witnesses being heard, pro and con. The Committee is considering a UMT Commission report on detailed plans for making this training a reality. Last year Congress adopted UMT in principle but provided that before it could go into effect a Commission be appointed to work out the details and then Congress would approve or disapprove the plan as reported, with any desired changes.

VFW HONORS CAPTAIN KURT CARLSEN

Last Week I attended the Annual Dinner given at the Statler Hotel by the Veterans of Foreign Wars honoring members of Congress. Every state was represented with both delegates and members of Congress. It was a very colorful affair with the President, members of his cabinet, General Bradley, Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, General J. Lawton Collins, the Commandant of the Coast Guard, the Marines and other outstanding Washington figures including representatives of the Supreme Court attending. The meeting was highlighted by honoring General Dean and presenting Captain Kurt Carlsen, heroic skipper of ill-fated "Flying Enterprise", a medal, with a citation reflecting Carlsen's "courageous action aboard his ship, adding to the highest traditions of the sea and to our appraisal of real Americanism, truly admirable examples of outstanding fortitude and loyalty". The medal was pinned on the Captain by President Truman. The modest Carlsen, replied most fittingly. He said, "I was merely trying to protect a piece of American property."

The Third Annual General Omar N. Bradley gold medal was presented, in absence, to Major General William F. Dean, now a communist prisoner somewhere in Korea. This is the highest award that is given by this great veterans' organization.

"THE UNCOMMON MAN"

Much mail comes to our desk. Some of it is trite and worthless, some of it is worth reading and remembering. A letter that came in the mail last week quotes Dean

Alfange as saying:
"I do not choose to be a common man. It is my right to be uncommon -- if I can. I seek opportunity -- not security. I do not wish to be a kept citizen, humbled and dulled by having the state look after me. I want to take the calculated risk: to dream and to build, to fail and to succeed."

"I refuse to barter incentive for a dime. I prefer the challenges of life to the guaranteed existence; the thrill of fulfillment to the state of Utopia. I will not trade freedom for beneficence nor my dignity for a handout. I will never cover before my master nor bend to any threat. It is my heritage to stand erect, proud and unafraid; to think and act for myself, enjoy the benefit of my creations and to face the world boldly and say, 'This I have done.' All this is what it means to be an American."

WEEKLY NEWS LETTER

by
W. F. Bond, Commissioner State Department Public Welfare

The two things that have handicapped the State Public Welfare program more than anything else are: (1) the lack of sufficient funds to help all of those in need of help, (2) lack of information on the part of the general public as to what the program really is intended to do.

The Legislature now in session, we are sure, will increase the appropriation so that more help may be given to those in need which will take care of one of our greatest problems. We have not yet found a way to get all the facts about the program to the people in general and if anyone reading this article has any suggestions or advice, we certainly would be glad to hear from them.

NEW AND GROWING INDUSTRIES DOUBLE USE OF NATURAL GAS

How much is 320,000,000,000? For one thing, it's the number of cubic feet of natural gas United supplied to industries, including electric power plants, in the Gulf South during 1951. Three hundred and twenty billion cubic feet of gas used by industry in a single year tells a convincing story of progress for our region. It's twice the volume consumed by United's industrial and power plant customers just ten years before... in 1941. The continuing expansion of existing industries and the movement of new industries into the area create larger payrolls... put more money into circulation... contribute in many ways to a more prosperous economy. Our company is always on the alert to help the growth of industry in the Gulf South.
